Another conspicuous visitor was Representative Randall, who called with the Pennsylvania organization. General Barnum, of New York, and staff and Governor Hoard and staff were also among the visitors.

At 5:30 o'clock the grounds were still thronged. The reception was therefore closed for the day and those in watting were informed that as it was impossible for the president to shake hands with all of them, he would come out on the porch and review them as they passed along. This announcement was well received and the crowd formed in line and marched across the portion, while the president stood in the doorway, bowing his acknowledgements of their satuations. Several organizations were in the inte thus reviewed.

acts and drunken debaucheries culminated to-day in almost a riot. Early this morning, the companies quartered in the post office department and in the Odd Fellows' hall turned out of their bunks half crazed from the effects of last night's debauch. They raided the neighboring saloons, despoiling them of all edibles and forcing them to close. They congregated on the sidewalk patted passersby with oysters stolen from the saloon, tossed negroes in blankets' and destroyed signa. The alarm west turned in at the patrol box, and a patrol wagon lead of officers-rushed to the scote. As slow as they alighted, they were surrounded by a howing mob, who pushed them against the wall and took their clubs from them.

The colonel of the Tenth Pennsylvania regiment who was quartered near by, heard of these proceedings, and calling a company he charged down the hill on the mob of drunken soldiers of double quick with fixed bayonets. He was thoroughly enraged and gave his men orders not to stop at anything. The soldiers flew before the unslaught and the police were released.

After clearing the street, he stationed a guard around the postoffice and left orders with the lieutemant to take hars, measures to quell the tiest signs of disorder. His prompt action probably prevented a serious rol, as the clieves are driven to deeperation over the outrageous conduct of their ruffianty guests.

BEFORE THE LAND COUNTSAIONERS. Two Important Cases Pending in Relation to Swamp Tracts

Two Important Gases Fending in Relation to Savana Tracts.

Balem, March & The board of state land commissioners, composed of the governor, secretary of state and treasurer, met to day in regular seasion. The principal business was the consideration of the application of Judge Aaron & Watt, of Portland, and Colonel Adair, of Astoria, for the completion of their purchases of swamp hands.

Indge Wait holds a certificate of purchase to 625 acres on the Columbia river, in Clatsop county, under the laws of 1870, which did not limit the amount of individual purchase. Under that law the buyer paid 20 per cent. down and was given ten years to pay the remainder. He allowed the time to clapsa, and then the law of 1857 was emacked, which revived the right of such certificate holders, but limited the amount to which one person could obtain title to 640 acres, and compelled him to make full payment on, or before, January 1, 1889. This portod has also paysed; and, besides, the law provides that, after January 1, 1889, the law provides that, after January 1, 1889, acres, and now Mr. Wait, as well at the board, is puzzled to know what to do. Ha wants the 626 acres, or none of the tract, and the board does not see its way clear to giving him the title; so the matter, has been laid over until the next meeting, for the purpose of seeking legal light on the subject.

Colonel Adair's case is almost parallel, only his purchase included some 4000 acres, and he is now content to take 32b, provided the money already patd can be applied to paying for it. The which thing goes over until the next meeting.

YELLINGRY.

New millinery is always interesting, and we will try and give an outline of what you may expect to find in this line. And right here, before we overlook the point, we wish to inform our lady friends that we have secured the services of a Parisian artiste, and with her assistance we expect to attain a degree of perfection a producing new and original fancies in bouncts and hate never before approached in the city of Portland. We have already achieved the reputation of having the handsomest goods and the most reasonable prices of any Millinery House in the city. We are not actisfied with this, however, and we propose to improve our facilities from time to time, and push onward, until we are the highest recognized authority on the Pacific Coast on all matters portaining to facilities for Millinery. Our Grand Spring Oranging will matters pertaining to fashionable millinery. Our Grand Spring Opening will take place some time this month, and will eclipse anything in this line that has ever occurred in this city. Due announcement will be made of same in these columns. We will now proceed with "Spring Styles."

SHAPES.

In general shapes follow somewhat after those of the past season. There are some eccentricities, but in the main the bouncis are narrow at the sider, arched quite high over the front, and have rather high crowns; or they are in very small close-fitting cottage shapes with a very slight arch over the face, and are exceptionally stylish and becoming. The Empire bonnet is evidently destined to be one of the leading styles. It is, with proper modifications, becoming to almost every lady, and is in rather pleasing contrast to the various small bonnote that have prevailed for such a length of time. There is something rather coquettish about one of these bonnets when shading a young and pretty face. The Russian Teque will be in great demand again this season, and will be very elaborately trimmed with flowers and feathers. Large hats, with low growns, built up high in the back, with ribbons, howers, or estrich tips, are the rage. Small close-fitting bonnets, elaborately trimmed with mortures and wreaths, will be somewhat in voque. Our imported French pattern hats and bonnets just received, all show streamers, either of lace or brocaded ribbon.

BRAIDS,

The leaders will be the Neapolitan, English Milan, Milanese, Tuscan and fancy mixed.

TRIMMINGS.

Ribbons, Laces, Flowers and Ostrich Tips will constitute the leaders for this season. Our ribbons are all here, and we shall certainly be able to show such an assertment as will astound you. Laces for millinery purposes will be in great demand, and we shall show an infinite variety. In fact, when you attend our opening you will fairly hold your breath at what your eyes will behold.

ANTE STEPEN.

Our Mr. Wm. Prager, of New York, has wired us that he has secured the services of a Parisian Modiste,

TISS I SILIERIAN,

From one of the largest French importing houses in New York City. The lady in question will arrive this week, and will no doubt be able to please the most fastidious of our patrons.

DEED LEEDS.

We are positively the only direct importers of millinery, in retail as well whalesale, in this city, and consequently will be able to show you the latest importations and highest novelties. Styles exclusively our own.

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, MARCH G.

AN INTELLIGENT AUDIENCE. The audience that listens to the president's Integrated address is always an exceptional ly intelligent assembly, and the warmth or coldness of their approval is significant of existing public opinion. Every state in the Union is represented in that audience by at least a dozen bright sensible men who per feetly comprehend the public sentiment of their section. It is an interesting fact, therefore, that on Monday the heartlest applause greeted General Harrison's discussion of the burie-que of the band, and its attendent in his pension point. The enumeration of the president's views on the subject of civil ser-vice reform excited small enthusiasm, for the plain reason that the people do not be-lieve that there can be any better civil service ncer of these United States rm than an upright, efficient and ener-e adminstration of the machinery of the government, which, starting from an honest and able president holds evary head of de-partment responsible for the efficiency or non efficiency of the subordinate heads of bureaus, etc. so that every man from cat-inet officer down to thiof clerk of a 1 treau may understand that if he seriously lacks either espacity or character he can no longer be an officer of these United States. That is thod of business applied to politics no method to will be a long long weary day of ratching and dreamy hope until our civil gravice gets beyond this list of efficient per ormance. The British system of competihave endeavored to transplant from in able plea for its extinction appeared in a English magazine, signed by cent, of the leading educational ter cent. of the leading of attendances there and teachers in England In this list of names appeared those of Hux-Frederic Harrison, the late Matthew of these men was that the cramming system to meet examination, was not only a failure in the schools but that it was a wretched allure as test of qualification for government of excellent understanding, but limited powers of fluent expression, cannot talk well what they know but can do all they know at the fatal weakness of the civil service re form system is the absurd administration of an absurd competitive or 'cramicing sys over the list of questions which a candidate New York custom house is required to answer and he will inderstand what we mean by the absurd administration of the competitive examination system These questions among other historical and constitutional conundrates, include the following Name the chief justices of the supreme court of the United States in their order from 1780 to the present date. Now, a school teacher fresh from an academy. could easily snower this question, and the majority of school girls could do so but very few men of business affairs distant ten years few men of business affairs distant but years from the High school could answer it off hand. In our opinion no man of 30 years of age in Portland could instantly answer it, unless he was a school teacher or a journalist Again an able accountant and capable clerk would probably full to solve these ab-surd questions while a school master or a school girl would correctly answer them at once, and yet the government would lose the skilled tierk and accountant and gain an absolutely incompetent servant. There should be no examination outside of business methods. If the First National bank of Portland wants a competent servant they ascertain his present reputation for abinty sobriety industry and integrity and they put him to work. It has supright and efficient they keep bing otherwise they drop him President Harrison has with charac teristic fact carefully guarded himself on the subject of civil service reform. He says dis-tinctly that honorable party service is not abuse of a public office, but excellent party and the first point blue of the care as a shield of official negligence, incompetence or delinquency. President Harrison thinks it creditable to seek public office by proper methods. He hopes to advance reform of the civil service, but does not evidently expect to attain it.

The Richmond Disports breaks loose thus: "Jan't It a crying shaunt that the control of the whole government has to be surrendered to a party of martignant socitomistis, who glory in humillating the Santhern people?" One pardons much to the bitterness of defeat, but not when it expresses itself thus faisely. Is the republican party sectional and the democratic party national! How can the republican party, which is based on national sovereignty, be sectional and the democratic party been national! When has the democratic party been national! When has the democratic party been national except at the three when it was seeking to extend sheery over the entire union. The erreed of the republican party was from the beginning that freedom was national and the action with an Institution which existed to the maintenance and extension of slavery, were identical with an Institution which existed the institution of the entire of the states of the union of the entire of the training of the entire of the union of the entire of the states of the union of the entire of the states of the union of the entire of the e

The Attempted Outrage of Au Eight-Year-Old Girl

Arrest of the Villain-The Singular Story Teld by the Child-Was She Abducted by Her Father?

About I o'clock this morning Officers Herrigan and Smith streated a large, burly, tooking man in the Baldwin ledging house, on Second street, between Taylor and Salmon, on a charge of stempting to outrage a little girl 8 years of age.

The man, accompanied by the little girl, took a room from the landlady of the house about half an hour before, representing himself as the father of the child.

The mnn, accompanied by the little girl, took a room from the landiady of the hones about half an hour before, representing himself at the father of the child.

The landiady gave him a room, but not without mistrust, for the frightened appearance of the little girl aroused her suspicious. She accordingly realied for the officers, who stattoned themselves mean the room to avail developments. They did not have long to wait. The girl gave several found screams, and the officers rushed into the room and found the must in a very compromising position. The child, whe was stiffing on the bed, was stiff crying and apparently overjoyed that someone came to her rescue.

expling and apparently overloyed that someone came to her rescue.

The officers without further ado took both the man and the little girl to the city jull. The men would not say a word as to who he was, or who the little girl was. When the officers had gone but a short distance from the lodging house on their way to the jail, he pulled out of his pocket a large rock wrapped up in a hander editiof, and attempted to make a unrederous assault on Officer Kerrigan. The blow, however, was worded off, and the rest of the journey to the jull was made without any farther pugitistic demonstration on his part. At the jull he was placed in one of the dark cells.

The little girl was allowed to rest and recover from her fright on a sofa in the police captain's nince before anything was asked her regarding the attempted assault. She is a very pretty cliffd, having a beautiful bead of golden hair and an open and bounct expression of countenance.
